

Curriculum Vitae

Patrick Paul Christle

Education

- PhD, English, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee. Major field of concentration: American literature
- MA, English, University of Tennessee, Knoxville, Tennessee
- BA, cum laude, Philosophy, Quincy College, Quincy, Illinois

Dissertation

- “The Beleaguered Individual: A Study of Twentieth-Century American War Novels.” Director: Allen Dunn

Teaching Experience

- English 101/102 - Freshman Composition, 30 semesters
- English 232 - American Literature from the Civil War to the Present, 1 semester
- English 252 - Introduction to Drama, 7 semesters
- English 295 - Business Writing, 2 semesters
- English 389 - Literature of the English Bible, 1 semester
- First Year Studies 101 - 1 semester

Other Experience

- Revision reviewer for The Hodges' Harbrace College Handbook, Fifteenth Edition, 2004
- Manuscript reviewer for Writing Matters by Rebecca Howard, 2003
- Revision reviewer for The New Century Handbook, Second Edition, by Christine Hult and Tom Huckin, 2003
- Tutor, Writing Center, University of Tennessee, 1991-92, 1993-98, 2001-05
- Assistant Director, Writing Center, University of Tennessee, 1995-97

Conferences

- Twentieth-Century Literature Conference 2003, presented paper: “Imagination and Self: The Autonomy of William Carlos Williams.”
- Twentieth-Century Literature Conference 2002, presented paper: “James Jones, Terrence Malick, and The Thin Red Line: Interpretation or Repudiation?”

Academic Service

- Member of Tutor Award Selection Committee, University of Tennessee, 2001, 2004
- Prepared and presented teaching workshop: “Planning a Sophomore Literature Class,” University of Tennessee, 2003
- Proctor and grader for ESL placement exam, University of Tennessee, 2001, 2005

Teaching Interests

- American Literature: American Renaissance, drama, war fiction
- Biblical Literature
- Business Writing
- Drama
- Freshman Composition

Academic Honors

- John B. Emperor Dissertation Fellowship, University of Tennessee, 1998
- Sigma Tau Delta, International English Honor Society, Quincy College, 1987-88